

energy

AIAS FORUM 2008

denver

AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF ARCHITECTURE STUDENTS

THE GLOBAL GATHERING OF ARCHITECTURE + DESIGN STUDENTS
December 29, 2008 – January 1, 2009
Denver, Colorado

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND

1. FORUM is the premier gathering of architecture and design students.
2. Denver has incredible architecture and surroundings to enjoy and explore.
3. You can earn IDP credit.
4. You will meet students and professionals from around the world.
5. You can attend the College + Career Expo.
6. You can participate in the governance of the AIAS.
7. You will learn about incredible design projects.
8. You will stay in an amazing (and affordable) hotel in downtown Denver.
9. You can party at the infamous Beaux Arts Ball New Year's Eve party.
10. Because you care about your future.

ABOUT OUR HOST CITY: DENVER

Denver is the perfect blend of outdoor adventure, urban sophistication and stewardship of the environment. That's what the locals love about the Mile High City. With snowcapped peaks providing a spectacular backdrop, Denver is as refined as it is laid-back. Denver residents strive to keep their city green through grassroots mass transit initiatives; emerging urban revitalization; a commitment to being a responsible steward of natural resources; and a broad array of environmentally-friendly building projects. FORUM-goers will have endless opportunities for exploration right outside the hotel's doors and through broad array of activities. It is the perfect setting to explore the convention theme of "Energy."

FORUM is the annual convention of the American Institute of Architecture Students. Up to 1,200 students are expected this year in Denver. This exciting event offers you the opportunity to interact with today's leading architects and designers, learn about issues facing architectural education and the profession and meet other students and professionals from around the world. In addition to the evening keynote presentations, conference events include tours, daily seminars, workshops and social events. The convention will be hosted by the AIAS chapter at the University of Colorado-Denver.

REGISTRATION

- The AIAS member registration rate is $175 ($250 for non-members)
- Registration includes all keynote events, seminars, charettes, College + Career Expo, Firm Crawl and the Beaux Arts Ball on New Year's Eve
- All day workshops will be available on December 29th: Rendering, Portfolio Design and Photography
- Tours of Denver and the region will be available every day
- The regular registration period ends on December 5th (rates increase after this date)

COLLEGE + CAREER EXPO AND FIRM CRAWL

- To be held on Saturday, December 30
- The Expo offers students the opportunity to learn more about employment and internships with architecture firms and graduate programs as well as building and design products
- The Firm Crawl is an "open house" of Denver-based architecture firms.

HOTEL: HYATT REGENCY DENVER

- Please make your own hotel reservations
- Reservations should be made online (via the FORUM Web site)
- Rate $129/night (plus 14.85% tax = $148.16) and is applicable for rooms including up to four people
- Rate applicable on December 27, 2007 – January 2, 2009
- Reservation deadline is December 5th

You can view the promotional video and learn more at...

www.aias.org/forum